

Carney, E. D. (2016) “Commemoration of a royal woman as a Warrior: The Burial in the Antechamber of Tomb II at Vergina”, Syllecta Classica.27, 109-49.

Despite continuing controversy about the osteological evidence and the identity of the occupants, the female burial in the antechamber of Tomb II at Vergina indicates that the ruler who buried her chose to commemorate her as a warrior woman.